NEW ORLEANS JAZZ & HERITAGE FOUNDATION, INC.
NOW HIRING: DIGITAL ASSET TECHNICIAN

The New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Archive is seeking a detail-oriented Digital Asset Technician to support a special project migrating the Archive's digital collections into a new Digital Asset Management System (DAMS), Terentia.

This is a part-time, temporary, contract position working closely with the Archive's Digital Collections Manager. The ideal candidate enjoys creating order from complexity, is comfortable with metadata and digital files, and wants hands-on experience with archival and digital preservation work.

WHAT YOU'LL DO

Metadata & Collection Preparation

- Correct and append administrative and descriptive metadata to existing digital collections, following institutional standards.
- Research within existing collections to append necessary metadata to incomplete records.

Digital Asset Organization & Ingest

- Discover, organize, and ingest digital objects into the new Digital Asset Management System.
- Reconcile inconsistencies between documentation and digital objects within the preservation system.

Workflow Support & Collaboration

- Work closely with the Digital Collections Manager to identify discrepancies and follow an established workplan.
- Document workflows, discrepancies, and corrections encountered during processing.
- Help enhance digital collections workflows and processes.

Digital Surrogate Creation

- Create access-level digital surrogates, including audiovisual and text-based assets.

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR

The ideal candidate is skilled at creating order from complexity — someone who is detail-oriented, a strong pattern-recognizer, and comfortable adapting quickly to a variable, project-based workload. A college-level degree, proficiency in Microsoft Excel, and familiarity with databases, scripting, or Software as a Service (SaaS) platforms are required.

Experience in archives, information management, or quality control is a plus, as is familiarity with audiovisual editing software, cataloging digital assets, or the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Foundation's mission and programs. No prior professional archive experience is required — we're looking for someone organized, curious, and collaborative.
